

Analysis of Variance, Within

This figure exhibits inner 50 and 90 percent intervals for city effects. Effects are interpreted as the log of the expected multiplicative increase in the fatality rate holding all else constant